Review Responses from OPM RFS/ Discuss and Vote on Minimum of 3 Respondents/ Discuss and Vote on Interview Sub Committee

The Committee reviewed the responses to the Owner's Project Manager's Request for Services. Members based their scores on many factors including: attention to detail on the RFP, quality of the product, staff and proposed staff, staff experience, staff's length of time with the company, past performance, reliance on consultants for experience, satisfactory working relationships, knowledge of Commonwealth procurement laws, state building codes, knowledge of New England Collaborative of High Performance Schools, LEED, and lifecycle analysis. Consultant Dale Gienapp shared his opinion on each of the firms, and concurred with some of the Committee's criteria including staffing and number of staff compared to number of projects, and relying on one person for past experience.

Following a lengthy discussion, members agreed that CREF and Leftfield could be eliminated from being interviewed.

The interviews are scheduled and posted for Wednesday, May 17, 2023, beginning at 9:00 am in hybrid format. The interviews will be open to the public, available on Zoom, and live streamed on RCTV. However, only the subcommittee will be allowed to ask questions, and there will be no comments or questions from the public.

Committee members discussed their availability and potential conflicts, and agreed that the Interview Subcommittee would include John Coote, Carla Nazzaro, Karen Gately Herrick, and Nancy Twomey, although Ms. Twomey stated that can only attend until 12:00 pm.

The Committee briefly discussed interview questions to ask. Pat Tompkins suggested asking each firm who will be the "boots on the ground" person in charge, and ensure that person will collaborate and solve problems. Town Manager Fidel Maltez had shared example questions with the Committee from consultant Dale Gienapp to use as a starting point.

On a motion by Carla Nazzaro, and seconded by Nancy Twomey, the Killam School Building Committee vote 9-0-0 to interview Colliers, Terva, Answer Advisory, and Hill International on Wednesday, May 17, 2023.
